AFFAIRS ABROAD.

Cardinal Manning as the Strikers' Friend.

Renewed Negotiations Fail to Effect a Compromise.

Stanley Leaves Emin and is Marching for the Seaboard.

A Companion of Gen. Gordon Gives a New Version of the Latter's Death — Foreign Notes.

By Telegraph to The Times.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] A conference between Cardinal Manning and the directors of the dock companies was held today. The directors were not willing to agree to the compromise proposed by him, that the terms which the dock companies already concede go into effect November 1st, provided the men immediately resume work. The Cardinal persuaded the directors to again consider the proposal.

The dock companies have decided to adhere to the offer made by them to raise wages January 1st.

The Pall Mall Gazette suggests that an organization be formed for the purpose of raising the £10,000 necessary to pay the dock laborers 6d per hour from November 1st to January 1st. The Gazette says a leading business man offered to contribute £2000 for the purpose on condition that the remaining £8000 be subscribed immediately. Ten thousand pounds is what the dock companies claim they would lose by advancing wages November 1st instead of January 1st.

After the conference between the directors of the dock companies and Cardinal Manning was concluded, the latter informed Burns and Tillett, leaders of the strike, that although the directors adhered to the original offer to advance wages January 1st, they were still open to further negotiations. He had been charged by the directors to tell them that if the strikers had any other terms to suggest it was for them first to agree among themselves what the terms should be. The directors had nothing from the men at present which they considered sufficiently clear and explicit. If the leaders of the strikers formulated final proposals and presented them through Cardinal Manning, the directors would again consider what course they would pursue in response to the strikers' demands.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 12.—[By the Associated Press.] A Times-Democrat Matamoras special says: Day before yesterday the body of the noted bandit Trinidad Ortiz was found hanging to a tree near the Capagon ranch.

The Heraldo says Gen. Roumela Cuellar has actually received a charter for a railroad from this city, via San Fernandino, Jimenez, Santa Teresa, etc., to Victoria Tula and San Luis Potosi. Domingo Lopez Lara and Gen. Manuel Gonzales are the other concessionists, and that Lara has also received a federal charter for a bridge over the Rio Grande, connecting this city with Brownsville.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 12.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] A cable dispatch from Zanzibar to the Governor of the Congo State says: "Stanley on leaving the basin of Albert Nyanza endeavored to make his way southward, by passing to the west of Victoria Nyanza but failed. He then went northward and reached the eastern shore of the lake. Emin Pasha accompanied him. After a long stay on the borders of the lake awaiting supplies, Stanley, leaving Emin Pasha, marched in the direction of Mombassa. He is expected to reach the eastern seacoast about the end of October.

ANOTHER STORY OF GORDON'S DEATH.

BERLIN, Sept. 12.—Dr. Fricke who accompanied Gen. Gordon to Khartoum and remained with him until his death, says that Gordon had unlimited confidence in himself and must have misled the British as to his critical situation. Gordon's character, says Dr. Fricke, was as obstinate as it was noble. His blindness to danger and his deafness to the wafnings of his friends caused his death. If he had so desired he might have escaped two days before the fall of Khartoum with all the Europeans in the place. He was speared by his own soldiers when he came to inspect them.

328, 330, 332 and 334 S. Spring st.

RED RICE'S FOLKS AT THE GREAT remitting stores, 328, 330, 332 and 334 S. Spring st., extend a cordial invitation to all people to call at their stores this week and get a pretty picture in white frame, free; at the same time to inspect the largest stock of household goods ever gathered together in this city; the tireless energy of the buyers for this house, together with the bonnie good fortune that has always attended us, make it utterly impossible for any competition to keep within sight; in fact, there is no competition with Red Rice's; no other house in the city is carried on upon the same plan; Red Rice buys everything (always drawing the line at wild cats); so well is this known that whenever, upon this coast, within reasonable limits, a person has anything to sell, it is first offered to Red Rice, and if the price is low enough to make it a bargain, Red Rice buys it for his customers; again, if any person wants any thing, from a footstool to a wheelbarrow, the first place they go is to RED RICE'S.

QUEER CONDITIONS.

HOW THE REFORM SCHOOL CONTRACT IS TO BE LET.

A Peculiar Mode of Procedure Adopted by the Commissioners in Direct Violation of the Law of 1875 and Calculated to Bar Out Honest Competition.

A contractor who desires to submit a bid for the construction of the Reform School at Whittier, and who finds himself practically estopped from entering the competition by reason of the conditions laid down by the Commissioners, waited upon THE TIMES yesterday, and made known a state of affairs that is very peculiar. In fact, it seems that the commissioners are bound to exemplify the scriptural condemnation, "Conceived in sin and brought forth in iniquity," in their entire management of the Reform School project. Not satisfied with the job perpetrated on the State in the selection of the site, as exposed by THE TIMES, they are evidently preparing to form a little syndicate of their own for the letting of the contract for the building.

As may be seen by the subjoined advertisement, published the 7th inst., for the first time, they propose that all bids shall be in by the 20th inst., and they adopt the unheard-of expedient of requiring the submission of a certified check for $5000 by each contractor before he is given a chance to bid. While thus taking unusual precautions to assure themselves of the responsibility of bidders, the commissioners will not agree to open the bids in public or to award the contract to the lowest bidder or bidders as required by the general law. Are they scheming to secure the sealed bids, open them in secret conclave, and award the contract to whomsover they please? It looks like it.

The contractor above referred to had a conversation with Commissioner Lindley, in which the latter, after a great deal of persuasion, agreed to let the contractor see the plans, but would not let him have access to them sufficiently to prepare his bid without the required $5000 deposit. When asked how many contractors were willing to submit to these terms, Lindley declined to state, but said: "We don't want too many contractors." Lindley also declined to agree to open the bids in public or to award the contract to the lowest bidder.

When the provisions of the State law governing the letting of contracts were called to his attention, Lindley said, in effect, that this commission was created by a special act of the Legislature, and it can do about as it pleases.

The advertisement referred to is as follows:

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

On and after Monday, September 9, 1889, there will be on file in the office of R. B. Young, architect, California Bank building, in the city of Los Angeles, the plans and specifications for the buildings of the State Reform School for Juvenile Offenders, and the undersigned Trustees of the institution invite sealed bids upon the same. All bids to be in the hands of the chairman of said Board of Trustees on or before the 20th of September, 1889.

Any person desiring to compete for this work must deposit with the chairman a certified check for five thousand (5000) dollars prior to placing plans in their hands, as guaranty of good faith and responsibility of said bidder, which check will be returned to the unsuccessful bidders upon the letting of the contract, and all bids.

JAMES H. LOWE,
Secretary pro tem.

JAMES H. LOWE, President.
JOSIAH SIMS.

THE GENERAL LAW.

The law governing the letting of contracts for State buildings, as found in "An act to regulate contracts in behalf of the State in relation to erections and buildings," approved March 23, 1876, reads:

Section 1. That, in all cases where the commissioners, directors, trustees or other officer or officers, to whom is confided by law the duty of devising and superintending the erection, alteration, addition to or improvement of any State institution, asylum or other improvement . . . the aggregate cost of which exceeds $3000, shall make or procure to be made a full, complete and accurate plan or plans of such institution . . . showing all the necessary details of the work, together with working plans, suitable for the use of the mechanics or other builders, during the construction thereof . . . giving such directions for the same as will enable any competent mechanic or other builder to carry them out, and afford the builders all needful information to enable them to understand what will be required . . . and to make, or cause to be made, a full, accurate and complete estimate of each item of expense, and the entire aggregate cost of such institution . . . when completed.

Section 2 provides that such plans and estimates shall be submitted to the Governor, State Treasurer and Secretary of State for their approval, and, if approved by them, a copy thereof shall be deposited and safely kept in the office of the Controller of State.

Section 3 provides that after the making and approval of such plans and specifications, it shall be the duty of the commissioners or directors "to give or cause to be given public notice of the time and place when and where sealed proposals will be received for performing the labor and furnishing materials necessary to the erection of such institution . . . and a contract or contracts, based on such sealed proposals, will be made, which notice shall be published weekly for four consecutive weeks next preceding the day named for the making of such contract or contracts, in the paper having the largest circulation and published each in the cities of San Francisco and Sacramento, and shall state when and where such plan or plans, descriptions, bills and specifications can be seen, and which shall be open to public inspection at all business hours, between the date of such notice and the making of such contract or contracts."

Sec. 4. That on the day named in said public notice said commissioners, directors, trustees or officer or officers as aforesaid shall proceed to publicly open said sealed proposals, and shall award such contract or contracts for doing the work and furnishing materials for the same to the lowest bidder giving responsible bonds; provided always, that no proposals shall be considered unless accompanied with a bond of said proposer equal to 10 per cent. of his proposal, with sufficient sureties, conditioned that if said proposal shall be accepted the party proposing will duly enter into a proper contract," etc.

THE ACT OF 1889.

The act creating the present Reform School Commission was approved March 11, 1889, and is found in page 111, et seq., of the last published statutes and amendments to the codes. Section 5 of this act reads as follows:

The said Board of Trustees shall prepare and adopt plans for the grounds, buildings and fixtures necessary for such an institution, not in their judgment to exceed in cost the amount of money hereinafter appropriated, but, if practicable, of such description that other buildings can be added to or enlarged without injury to their symmetry or usefulness; and may let or make all necessary contracts, with the approval of the Governor, for the construction of such buildings and fixtures and the improvement of the grounds, according to such plans.

Sec. 6. No trustee or employé of such institution shall be personally, directly or indirectly, interested in any contract, purchase or sale made or any business carried on in behalf of or for said institution.

[Mr. Lindley was interested, as an owner, in the site sold for the Reform School.]

THE GENERAL PROVISIONS NOT SET ASIDE.

There is nothing in this act repealing or setting aside the general law as quoted above, which governs the letting of all contracts for State buildings, the price of which is in excess of $3000, and yet Commissioner Lindley claims that his body is a law unto itself, and he and his associates proceed to violate the laws in the following particulars:

First—The advertisement inviting proposals is published only seven times, beginning September 7th, while bids are to be submitted by September 20th, thus leaving an interval of only 13 days between the first notice and the submission of bids. The law specifies that this notice shall be published weekly for four consecutive weeks next preceding the day named for making contract.

Second—The commissioners require the filing of a certified check for $5000 with the chairman before a contractor is given access to the plans for the purpose of making estimates. The law specifically requires that the plans and specifications shall be open to the public for four weeks previous to the letting of contracts and requires no such bond as the commissioners demand in advance of bidding.

Third—The law specifically requires that the bids shall be opened in public. The commissioners will not agree to open them in public.

Fourth—The law requires that the contract be let to the lowest responsible bidder or bidders. The commissioners specially reserve the right to reject any or all bids.

COMMISSIONER LINDLEY INTERVIEWED

Commissioner Lindley was seen by a representative of THE TIMES yesterday afternoon, and, in response to questions, explained at length the position of the commission. He states that some time ago, while in Sacramento, he waited upon Controller Dunn to get his decision on the question involved — whether the commission is to be regulated in its course by the general law of 1875 or by the special act of the last Legislature. At first the Controller was under the impression that the law of 1875 would hold, but afterward, in consultation with Senators White and McComas and Representatives Damron and Brierly, Mr. Lindley says it was decided that the later law alone would govern, and an opinion to this effect was also obtained from Mr. Variel of this city. Under the act creating the commission, Mr. Lindley claims that this body is only required to report to the Governor and obtain his sanction; that, aside from this, the mode of procedure is practically in the hands of the commission; that they may advertise for proposals or not, as they see fit, or let the contract privately if they choose; that they are not obliged to open the bids in public or award the contract to the lowest or to any bidder.

He states that he had accurate figures on the building made by a contractor in San Francisco, and he knows, therefore, about what the building should cost. If the proposals do not come about to that figure, they are likely to be rejected in toto, and other proposals invited. The reason why the $5000 certified check is required in advance, he says, is that the time of the commission may not be wasted with irresponsible bidders. Mr. Lindley thinks that the first-class contractors of Los Angeles are well posted with the terms proposed, and that there will be [illegible] from five or [illegible] have been out here [illegible] ments of the general law [illegible] tions in the manner proposed by the Reform School Commission, and, if so, how the State came out in the long run. Probably a test case will be made of the legality of the present commission's acts.

An opinion was expressed by Senator White, yesterday, that Controller Dunn will refuse to pay warrants drawn on him until the matter is judiciously determined.

GRAND AVENUE EXTENSION.

The Newest Cable Ready to Make a Start.

The Los Angeles Cable Railway Company has pushed its Grand avenue extension through with the customary energy and completeness characterizing the work of Superintendent J. C. Robinson. The line is about ready for operation, and the first car was run over it yesterday. It will be opened to the public in a day or two.

When the cars are running regularly between Jefferson street and Boyle Heights and Jefferson street and the Plaza, each line will run under a ten-minute headway, thus giving a five-minute service between the Jefferson-street terminus and the First and Spring streets junction, and this five-minute service will be between the hours of 6 a.m. and 11:30 p.m. The cars will commence running from Grand avenue and Jefferson streets at 5:10 a.m., and the last through train to Jefferson street will leave Boyle Heights at 10:50 p.m. This will make about as perfect a service as the most chronic kicker could wish.

A. L. TEELE.

What His Friends Have to Say.

There were no new developments yesterday in the disappearance of A. L. Teele, the missing real estate agent. There seems to be no doubt that he has gone away to avoid his creditors, and that he will not come back. But those whom he has left in the lurch have taken no action to lodge a complaint against him, or try to get him back. A friend of his said to a TIMES reporter last night that he has not lived a fast life, and that what money he has spent has been the legitimate expenses of his family and his business. He said that Teele has had a good many expenses for a year past, as his family went to New York and were there for some time, and have been at Santa Monica during the summer. He believed that Teele had gone to keep out of the way of his creditors, but that if he can get on his feet again he will pay up all that he owes. He discredited the story that he had taken a woman with him.

Preparing to Report.

A committee of the Grand Jury, headed by Maj. Knox, was out yesterday afternoon in a carriage inspecting the condition of various streets and bridges which have been brought to its attention, preparatory to formulating its written report, which will probably be presented to the court early next week. The members of the Grand Jury say that they have performed an immense amount of work, and are well satisfied with what they have accomplished. They also say that the people will be satisfied when the report is made public.

THE CHAMBER.

A GENERAL DISCUSSION PRO BONO PUBLICO.

Maj. Jones Reports Concerning the Commercial Convention in San Francisco — Sectional Jealousy Disappearing — "California on Wheels"—A Southern California Project.

The Chamber of Commerce met in its rooms, on First street, yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, President Jones in the chair. It was an adjourned meeting from the day before.

The Chair stated that there was not a quorum present, and no business could be transacted, but that the members present might, if they wished, discuss any matters of interest.

It was suggested that as President Jones has been absent in San Francisco, it might be advisable for him to give a statement of his doings while away. Maj. Jones stated that the doings of the committee will be made known to the chamber in the form of a report. He was of the opinion that the Los Angeles delegation exercised considerable influence in the commercial convention at San Francisco. The Los Angeles delegates went in for the San Pedro harbor, and he was sure that they made a favorable impression. There were quite a number of the delegates present from other portions of the State, who did not even know that anything has been done for the improvement of San Pedro harbor. Maj. Jones then read the report of the Los Angeles delegation to the chamber. The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce will prepare several thousand copies of the condensed minutes of the convention, which will be furnished to all the chambers and boards of trade on the coast.

The Pacific Coast Chamber of Commerce was organized the day after Maj. Jones left San Francisco, but Hervey Lindley was present, and as he was present at yesterday's meeting the Chair called on him.

He took the floor and stated that the organization is now in working order. The body is for the purpose of pushing the commercial needs of the whole coast in Congress during its next session. The speaker believes that Southern California will now be in a condition to put her demands properly before the people. The San Francisco convention called another convention for the 19th of November, when important steps will be taken.

The chairman said he was sorry that there was no quorum present, as there was business of importance to come before the board. There will be an adjourned meeting of the "California on Wheels" Convention in this city next Saturday, and the chamber should appoint delegates to that convention. Messengers were then sent out to rustle up members enough to make a quorum, and during the interim the chairman made quite a lengthy talk, in which he lectured the members for not taking more interest in the workings of the chamber. He read a letter from J. M. Davies, secretary of the State Board of Trade, in which he stated that the "Northern California on Wheels" promises to be a grand success.

Mr. Lichtenberger stated that he was present at the San Diego meeting, and all of the delegates were in favor of sending a "Southern California on Wheels" to the Northern counties. [illegible] the committee [illegible] to have the committee meet in this city tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The speaker stated that through some mistake the chambers had not been properly notified of the meeting here, but they will put in an appearance tomorrow, and proper arrangements should be made for their reception.

Maj. Jones stated that he has seen General Freight and Passenger Agent S. B. Hynes of the Santa Fé regarding transportation of the "California on Wheels." Mr. Hynes stated that he did not know exactly what the policy of the new president of his road will be, but he believed that the company would do all in its power to assist the movement. He promised to give a definite answer tomorrow. He believed that the Santa Fé road would transport free to Chicago any products that the chamber may wish to send. The Southern Pacific Company will send a carload of Southern California citrus fruits to Chicago free of charge. The cost of a "Southern California on Wheels" will amount to about $350 a month. The Chair stated that a great change has recently come over not only the State Board of Trade regarding Southern California, but also over the Southern Pacific Company. The Southern Pacific people have large interests in this section of the country and they are doing as much for this end as they are for the northern portion. It is true that there was a bitter feeling against Southern California a year ago, but that has been wiped out, and now they are willing and anxious to do the square thing by this section. The Los Angeles exhibit in the State board is the only one from Southern California, and it is being put forward just as prominently as any section of the country.

The Los Angeles delegates who attended the San Diego convention were reëlected. It was decided to appoint 10 delegates to the convention tomorrow. The Chair appointed Maj. Russell, Col. Allen, Messrs. Hynes, Seamans, Taller, Wells, Naramore, J. J. Jones and Maj. Jones.

Maj. Jones then made a statement regarding irrigation. He stated that he had made an effort to gather facts and figures, but the people do not respond as they should. He hopes to be able to gather considerable information in the near future.

After a little further discussion the chamber adjourned.

A SIMPLE ASSAULT

And Martinez's Bottle of Wine Was the First Cause.

Lorenzo Martinez was tried yesterday in Department No. 1 of the Superior Court, upon a charge of assault with intent to murder Feliz Oliviez. Martinez lives at Ballona, and one day while walking along with a bottle of wine in his hand, he was met by Oliviez and a companion. The latter were driving along in a wagon. They stopped and all had some wine. Then they went to a saloon and drank until all were pretty drunk. Upon coming out of the saloon Martinez wanted them to take him in the wagon where he had been going. A drunken row ensued in which Oliviez was cut. The testimony was not very lengthy, and the jury returned a verdict of guilty of simple assault.

THEY BLEW HIM IN.

How Drane Lavished Stolen Money on his Mistresses.

The detectives are still digging into the private affairs of C. K. Drane, the absconding book-keeper of the San Pedro Lumber Company, and from present indications the company does not propose to leave a stone unturned that will throw the slightest light on the habits and manner of life of the gay and festive employé who lived so high at its expense. It is not known whether the company expect to get any of the money back, but it is evidently determined to know where it went, and it is only fair to assume that, if any of it is in such shape that it can be recovered, this will be done. It has been learned, among other things, that Drane was in the habit of showing his appreciation of the women with whom he happened to be living at the time in a very substantial manner, by giving them very handsome presents, which generally took the form of expensive jewelry and diamonds. To Addie Merton, the first woman with whom he was connected, it is said that he gave $3500 worth of diamonds, besides a $350 sealskin coat and other articles of expensive wearing apparel, besides buying the furniture of the Highland Villa for her, and installing her in the place as proprietress. While he was doing all this, another young man was living in the same house with the woman, and she afterward left Drane and took up with him, when she found that she had got about all that she could out of him. In his next venture, however, Drane was equally as unfortunate, for the Sample woman was as inconstant as her predecessor. She, it is claimed, got diamonds and jewelry to the amount of between $2000 and $3000, when she quietly folded her tent and skipped to the barkeeper, with whom she had previously been living in San Francisco and San Diego.

Addie Merton.

Whether the married woman who has been mixed up in the case fared equally as well as the others cannot be ascertained, as her identity has been closely concealed, and if the detectives know her name they will not divulge it. It is more than probable, however, that she got her share, and this matter will be thoroughly investigated.

[illegible] of the examination of the books by the experts in the employ of the company, it is [illegible] a great deal can be straightened out that is now in the dark, and it is for this purpose that such vigorous efforts are being made to effect his capture, besides which the company has a very large force of men in its employ, and it cannot afford to allow Drane to escape, as the example would be a dangerous one, and for its own protection it will have to see him punished.

As so much has been said about the handsome Addie Merton, who is supposed to have started young Drane on his downward path, her picture is given in this issue.

JAIL ARRIVALS.

A Poor Unfortunate on His Way to State Prison.

Among the arrivals at the County Jail yesterday was Ed Walker, from San Bernardino, en route to San Quentin, to serve an eight-year sentence for arson. Walker is a native Californian, and is known to the police as a sure-thing gambler. John Madden was also brought down from San Bernardino, and remained in the County Jail until the departure of the train for the north. Madden is a teamster, and formerly worked in Los Angeles, where he was known as "Nosey." The poor fellow is a lunatic, and is en route to the asylum at Stockton. The other arrivals were the Curlew boys, from the city, for vagrancy, and T. B. Thompson, for the same offense. Richard White was also brought down from Burbank to serve a 10-day sentence for vagrancy. Dr. Frecius, the cocaine "fiend," sent up for 40 days for vagrancy, shows a great improvement since he has been shut off from cocaine and morphine, and it is believed that by the time his sentence has expired he will be entirely recovered.

THAT TEMPLE-STREET CUT.

It Causes a Small Unpleasantness and Some Words.

A lively war of words, which came very near resulting in something more serious, occurred on Spring street yesterday morning, between Lawyer O. O. Trantum and Assistant City Engineer Lowndes. Mr. Trantum is the attorney representing the protesting property-owners against the change of the Temple-street grade, and meeting Mr. Lowndes, the two gentlemen fell to discussing the matter. Mr. Trantum intimated in language more forcible than polite that Mr. Lowndes did not know his business, and furthermore, that there was a job in the matter. Mr. Lowndes promptly resented the insinuation, saying that while Mr. Trantum might be versed in the law, it was his opinion that he knew nothing about engineering, and would show his good sense by not talking about matters that he did not understand; furthermore, that if there was any job in the proposition, it was his opinion that he (Trantum) knew a good deal more about it than he did. The interchange of compliments continued for some minutes further, when the language on both sides became decidedly unparliamentary, and the debate was abruptly adjourned by friends to prevent trouble.

Assessments Reduced.

A dispatch from Hon. J. R. Brierly, at Sacramento, to County Clerk Dunsmoor, brings the comforting news that the State Board of Equalization has reduced the assessment of Los Angeles county 10 per cent.

ORPHANS' FAIR.

ITS SUCCESSFUL OPENING IN ARMORY HALL.

Flowers, Evergreens and Fancy-work in Abundance—The Booths and Their Occupants—Notes and Personals.

Yesterday morning Armory Hall presented quite an attractive appearance to those who are fond of watching the actions of an industrious crowd of people, made up of all sizes and ages, drawn from both sexes. The big hall was crowded with men, women and children, who worked like beavers to get the booths ready by evening for the fair of the Sisters of the Immaculate Heart, for the benefit of the school on Pico Heights.

About forty ladies, under charge of Mrs. Gen. A. A. McDonald, president of the Executive Committee, have been hard at work for the past few weeks gathering up fancy work and arranging for the opening of the fair. Flowers, evergreens and fancy work poured in all day from every quarter of the city, and busy hands soon placed things in their proper places. From 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. the ladies served lunch to a number of business men who straggled in by twos and threes.

The formal opening did not take place until 8 o'clock last night, when the hall was comfortably filled with people bent on getting as much pleasure as possible out of the fair. The booths and tables were all in order last night and presented a very pret

BUNCH AND MORALES.

THE BANDIT TO BE BROUGHT UP FROM SAN DIEGO,

And the ex-Partners in Crime Will Confront Each Other at Santa Monica—Some of Their Horse-stealing Escapades—Why They Quarreled.

A step was taken yesterday which will probably result in the end in a complete ventilation of the acts of Sylvestro Morales and his partner, George Bunch, during the period that they were playing the rôle of horse-thieves and cut-throats.

Constable Frank Benedict, of Santa Monica, who arrested George Bunch at San Bernardino last week, has been very busy at work on the Bunch case, and has secured certain evidence which necessitates the presence of Morales at the Bunch examination for horse stealing, which is to be held at Santa Monica, before Justice G. A. McElfresh, Tuesday, September 17th. Yesterday Constable Benedict secured an order from Judge Cheney, directed to the Sheriff of San Diego county, and a subpœna for Morales as a witness, and started for the captured bandit late in the afternoon. Morales was removed from Oceanside yesterday to the County Jail, in San Diego, and will be brought from there either in charge of the Constable or the Sheriff of San Diego county. Benedict will first go to Rincon after some witnesses and from there proceed to San Diego.

The crime with which Bunch is charged is the stealing of five horses, three of which belonged to the Machados, Morales's benefactors, and the other two to Charles Hawes and A. T. Stewart of Santa Monica. The Machado horses were returned to them, and Constable Benedict has ferreted out the fact that this led to the shooting of Bunch by Morales. Bunch claims that he was never in Santa Monica, but there is evidence to show that he has lied about it. The stealing of the horses was done by Bunch alone, although Morales was not far distant. When Morales found out that three of the stolen animals belonged to the Machados he kicked about it, and wanted Bunch to agree that they should be returned, but the latter was ugly about it, and did not want to give up the horses. This led to a quarrel between the two outlaws, and Morales shot Bunch three times, thinking that he had killed him. He then returned the horses to the Machados.

Constable Benedict visited Bunch at the County Jail yesterday, and had a talk with him. He told the officer that he would not talk any more now about his relations with Morales, but that when Morales gets on the stand, if he attempts to throw all the blame on him, he will tell the whole story of the events of the summer. He evidently does not feel very kindly toward the partner who put three bullets into him.

It has been discovered, also, that Bunch and Morales were concerned in another horse-stealing escapade about August 1st. At that time two horses were stolen from the Camulos rancho, and afterward found at Anaheim, where they had been sold by the thieves. Singularly enough Bunch and Morales were the net which has snapped them in connection with this crime. The night the horses were stolen two men went to the hotel at Newhall, and registered with Mr. Mather, the clerk. They had two horses with them, which have been proven to be the horses stolen from the ranch. The men signed their true names, George Bunch and Sylvestro Morales, and remained at the hotel all night, leaving on their horses in the morning after breakfast. The boldness of the bandits was something phenomenal.

Certain clews have been obtained, which Constable Benedict would not divulge at present, but which it is probable will lead to a clearing up of the mystery of the murderer of Henry Charles, the wealthy rancher supposed to have been murdered by Morales. The coils seem to be tightening about the necks of both men every day. When Morales is brought up from San Diego and confronted with his partner, further developments are confidently expected.

The examination at Santa Monica will be a lively one and will no doubt be largely attended by the curious people who will flock to see the notorious outlaws.

New Suits.

Suit was begun yesterday by James Smith vs. P. M. Green, B. F. Ball and the Pasadena Railway Company to secure judgment on a note for $1000. The plaintiff alleges that the defendants elected to pay $500 for right of way, and build cattle-guards at their own expense, instead of paying $1000 in money; and that the $500 has not been paid or the cattle-guards erected.

J. A. Clarke brought suit against J. D. Greenwade for $500, claiming that amount to be due him for legal services rendered in a case.

Jan Ah Wong brought suit against Suet Yot on a promissory note for $1195.80, and for $92.76 interest.

N. K. Wade began suit against Martha F. and C. E. Whelpley and E. Sorabjee to secure judgment on a promissory note for $1000.

Suit was begun by Merick Reynolds vs. P. C. Tonner to foreclose on a contract for the sale of certain lots, the amount being $750.

P. Fitzwilliam began suit against R. F. del Valle to secure judgment on a promissory note made to J. F. Figueroa for $4500.

WORK TO DO.

The Board of Public Works in its Weekly Ramble.

Thursday is the regular day for the weekly tour of inspection of the Board of Public Works of proposed improvements, but, at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, only Maj. Bonsall was on hand at the City Hall. Finally, after waiting half an hour or more, that gentleman, accompanied by Deputy Engineer Lowndes and the reporters for the daily press, started on their rounds, with Councilman McLain following in his buggy.

New High street was first visited, where it is proposed to pave the same with bituminous lime rock. The board will recommend that the street, from Franklin to Bellevue avenue, be paved, but there may be a strong enough protest to prevent the work from extending further than between Franklin and Temple.

From this point the party went out to Gale street, which the property-owners have asked to have graded, and, as there is a natural water-way across the street from the Chavez Cañon, the parties want a culvert put in where the ravine crosses the street. After looking over the ground it was decided to recommend that two 30-inch pipes be put in instead of a culvert, as it is cheaper, and it is believed that this will be sufficient to take care of the water. It was also found that several brickyards were using the street and that in several places the roadway had been excavated. This matter will be brought to the attention of the Land Committee and the trespassers will be removed.

The Downey-avenue viaduct was next visited, where Councilmen McLain, Summerland and Van Dusen were found waiting, and they afterward accompanied Mr. Bonsall. At the west approach of the bridge E. F. Spence and William Lacy own a frontage of 220 feet, which they claim has been damaged by the viaduct. They at first agreed to take $1200, but a sidewalk approach was attached to the bridge in front of their property, and they now want $3000, which the committee is unwilling to grant; but it is probable that a compromise can be effected. It was also found that the sidewalk approach had not been wind-braced and it shakes very badly, which matter will be brought to the attention of the City Engineer. The bottom of the bridge will also be lined with sheet iron to protect the wood-work from sparks from engines passing underneath. There has been a good deal of talk about draining the east approach to the bridge, and after an examination, it was decided to recommend that catch-basins be put at each corner of the embankment, connected by a pipe, and that a storm drain be constructed to carry the water to the river. The matter of constructing wings for the protection of the approach during high water was also informally discussed, but no recommendation was agreed upon.

At the junction of Chestnut street and Downey avenue, there has been considerable complaint about the water-way being blocked up, and it was decided to recommend that the Council notify the cable road company to put a conduit beneath its track at that point.

The Daly-street bridge across the Arroyo Seco next came in for a share of the attention of the Councilmen. Col. Cross has offered to build a viaduct across his railroad, and the property-owners in the vicinity petitioned to have the present bridge moved in such a manner as to straighten the street and connect with the viaduct. It was found, on inquiry, that the people interested did not know just how the matter stood, and as there is also a strong protest against the proposed change, it was decided to allow the whole matter to go over for a week from today, at which time property-owners and Col. Cross will be given an opportunity to appear before the board and explain what they want, and how they propose to accomplish it.

The junction of Swain and Daly streets was found to be in bad condition, and the Street Superintendent will be instructed to have the same repaired.

The petitions of the property-owners on Calumet avenue, Angeleño Heights, asking to have the grade referred to the City Engineer for correction, and those on Montgomery street, calling attention to the difference in grade between that street and Figueroa, and the attending inconvenience resulting therefrom, will be referred to the City Engineer to see what steps are necessary in the premises.

The Kuhrts-street bridge, about which there was so much complaint last winter, was next visited. The street has been graded, but no provision has been made for running off the water, and, as it will not run up hill and climb over the levee to the river, a large pond, in some places five feet deep, forms on the street just east of the bridge after every rain. This pond was known last winter as Lambie's lake, and caused the people a great deal of annoyance. The recommendation will be sent to the Council that a 30-inch storm-drain be put in before the rainy season sets in. A malaria-breeding hole was also found on the east side of the river at this point, which the Street Superintendent will be instructed to have filled.

In regard to the repairing of the bridge, it was decided that the present flooring is good enough for a year or two yet, and that by taking up a few planks that are worn out, and substituting new ones, it would cover every purpose for some time to come. The recommendation will also be sent to the Council that wings be constructed at the west approaches before the winter rains set in, as there is danger of the bridge being carried away in case of high water.

On Banning street a knoll was found in the street, in front of the soap works, where the zanja formerly passed, which prevents the free passage of water, and the Street Superintendent will be instructed to have this remedied. The same will also be done on Turner street.

The petition of property-owners for a cement sidewalk on Figueroa street, from Washington to Pico, and several other matters, went over until next week, as it was impossible, owing to the lateness of the hour, to inspect the localities, and the party was driven back to the City Hall.

On the trip a considerable amount of work was found for the Land Committee, the indications being that that body was paying but little attention to its duties. Besides the brick-yards on Yale street, which were occupying the public thoroughfare, it was also discovered that Mozart street, on the East Side, had been blocked up at Kuhrts street by a two-story frame grocery store being built directly in the middle of the street. It was also stated that there were other cases equally as bad.

Besides the above items, there are several other important matters to come up at the meeting of the board this morning. Among others is the petition for the widening of Temple street from Fort to Figueroa, and the session promises to be an interesting one.

SANTA MONICA.

The Day's Doings Down by the Seashore.

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 12.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The disputed question as to whether or not the Sisters' College is to be located here has been definitely settled, for the final signatures have been placed to the papers and there is nothing now to interfere with the deal. The institute therefore goes on the Crippin tract, one mile east of town, in East Santa Monica, and on the donated 22 acres. Three hundred and fifty thousand dollar's worth of improvements are to be made. Work will be commenced within 90 days.

The anniversary of the Mexican independence is to be celebrated here in glorious style on Monday next, for there is a large native population. One of the features of the day will be a barbecue and picnic at Pascual Marquez's place, in the Santa Monica Cañon.

Travelers will do well to note the changes in the time-card on the Los Angeles and Pacific Railroad. Trains now leave Los Angeles at 10 a.m. and 5 p.m., and leave Santa Monica at 8 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

The restaurant plan that was to have gone into effect at the Arcadia has been postponed, and the dining-room is running as usual. Judging by all indications, September throughout will be in the season.

The tax levy for Santa Monica this year is 50 cents on the $100.

T. H. Rhodes arrived at the Arcadia last night.

Coroner Meredith was here today.

Dr. Ainsworth, U.S.A., was among the visitors at the Arcadia today.

J. A. Watson, W. K. Robbins and J. O. Billings are among the day's arrivals at the Arcadia.

BERING SEA — THE FUR SEAL.

An authority which we are now unable to name, but which we find to be substantially correct, as far as it goes, makes the following statements about the fur seal and its haunts in different parts of the globe. We quote:

The story of the unhappy fate which has overtaken the fur seal in all parts of the world, but one, has been many times told. Their rookeries were numerous and densely populated once in many localities. Our own New England fishermen discovered many of them, and did their full share in the work of devastation. The Kerguelen Land in the Indian Ocean yielded 1,000,000 skins in 20 years; 3,000,000 were taken from the South Shetland Islands off Cape Horn in two years; 1,300,000 from the Georgian Islands in 17 years; 50,000 a year from the Massafuero, and many thousands from the Faulkland Islands, from Lower California and the Japan Sea. But every one of these spots has been exhausted, ravished of its rich treasure by indiscriminate slaughter. The Argentine Republic still possesses and vigilantly guards one small rookery; but aside from this the fur seals have no retreat on earth but Bering Sea. That they flourish there, and in recent years have increased in numbers, is for our profit and the good of the world, and it is only due to the wise precautions which our Government has taken against a recurrence of the unfortunate experiences elsewhere observed. But they do not exist in Bering Sea in such numbers that any of the safeguards now set about the seal can be withdrawn.

These statements are only too true; the situation in all parts of the globe, save alone the Bering Sea, is not too gravely described.

If the work of destruction depicted above should be allowed to extend to the Sea of Bering, it would not be a decade before the fur-seal life of the entire world would be practically extinct. The commercial advantages now derived from it would be gone forever. Hence it is that our laws on the subject, as they now stand, are necessary and salutary, notwithstanding the fact that they seem to be framed in the interest of monopoly, and have aroused prejudice on the part of interested parties, who would have the limited fur-seal regions of the United States thrown open to all comers and all slayers.

Unlimited competition and unlicensed killing would speedily produce their inevitable results—the destruction or breaking up of the breeding rookeries and the permanent frightening away from their present haunts of the vast numbers of this precious race of fur-bearing animals that now annually visit them; for no more sensitive animal lives than the fur seal. It has a high and delicate organism, is peculiarly susceptible to fright, and, while singularly attached to its chosen haunts, which have been kept by it for centuries (but only on Russian-American territory), is at the same time easily driven from them forever by man's harassments, ignorance, cruelty and greed.

The theory and practice of the United States law in regard to the fur seals of Bering Sea—which law has been in force for now nearly twenty years—is, first of all, to respect the natural habits and the chosen habitat of the animal at all times. To this end, the law forbids absolutely the disturbing of the breeding rookeries; the killing of any female seal; the pursuit or killing of any seal whatever in the water, or by the use of firearms; and the killing of more than 100,000 seals for commercial purposes in any one year.

To this law and its honest enforcement—and we feel justified in declaring that it has been honestly enforced—can be directly attributed the existence today of the vast body of seals which still annually migrate to and from the Seal Islands of Alaska.

These islands are but two—St. Paul and St. George, of the Pribylov group—lying in about latitude 56° and 57° north, and 180 and 210 miles, respectively, north of the Aleutian chain., making the most northerly member of the group about 2300 miles from San Francisco. Here congregate every year these animals in numbers that are simply fabulous and incalculable. The whole body, if taken and their skins placed upon the world's markets at once, at prevailing prices, would represent a sum of money which we would hardly dare to name, lest the statement should be scouted by readers unacquainted with this unique resource of our country. The legal catch of 100,000 skins is alone worth, raw, not less, probably, than one and a quarter millions of dollars annually, as the skins sell in London at from $10 to $15 apiece, without any manipulation whatever other than simple curing in salt.

Notwithstanding the great numbers of these animals indicated above—and the writer speaks from personal observation, in an official capacity, on the spot—it would require, as we have already said, no great length of time, and no serious breaking down of established safeguards, to utterly destroy or scatter to other quarters of the globe the whole vast aggregation that now makes the little Seal Islands probably the richest spots in animal life, of their size, in the known world. It is true that the numbers are so great that, even after the full annual catch of 100,000 has been completed, it requires the eye of an expert, looking abroad over the "hauling-grounds," to detect the depletion that has just taken place. It is even practicable for a greater number to be taken for a few years—as many, possibly, as 150,000 skins a year—but this could not be kept up with any safety. And to open the islands to competition by rival sealing companies, throwing down the salutary restrictions now existing for regulating the catch and preserving inviolate the breeding rookeries, would be utterly and speedily ruinous.

The only other considerable haunts of the fur-seal in the north are on the three islands of Copper, Bering and Robbins, of the Komandorsky or Commander group, lying not distant from the Siberian main, in about the same latitude north as the Seal Islands of Alaska. These islands are leased by the Russian government under essentially the same conditions and restrictions, as respects preservation of the seal life, as obtain under our government. Here some 25,000 or 30,000 fur-seal skins are taken annually, and find their way into the world's markets in practically the same manner that controls the marketing of the Alaskan product.

The skins taken from these five little islands in the far north—two in American waters and three in Russian waters—make up, it is estimated, nearly ninety-five per cent. of all the fur-seal skins that legitimately find their way into the markets of the world! This, at least, was the case up to a few years ago, when the business of predatory seal-catching commenced with such dangerous earnestness. Under this lawless practice some thousands of skins have recently been thrown upon the market each year; but, notwithstanding this fact, the statement remains true that nearly all the fur-seal skins that legitimately reach the marts of commerce come from the islands named. The predatory catches are almost exclusively of seals taken in the water by shooting from on board sealing schooners or steam vessels specially fitted out for the purpose. These hauls have in former years been generally made in the Pacific, along the British Columbia coast, but this season has been signalized by the determined invasion of the waters of Bering Sea by British sealers; and it is this encroacnment that has threatened trouble between the United States and Great Britain. Many foreign sealers have been seized by us—the U. S. revenue cutter Richard Rush having alone captured over a dozen illicit sealing craft and sent them to Victoria or Sitka. The captures appear to have been all made in a pro forma fashion, as the "prize crew" put aboard each captured vessel generally consisted of one man!

The question whether Bering Sea is a mare clausum—a closed sea—or not, is under argument. Whatever may be the conclusion—and it is a question into which we do not now go—it is the true interest of not only the United States, but of Great Britain and Russia as well, to come to an agreement upon the prime necessity of protecting the almost priceless seal life of Bering Sea. The interests of the three nations run parallel in this matter. It is not a question of protecting the interests of individuals, companies or monopolies, but of nations; and the interests of the United States are paramount.

The present twenty years' lease of the Alaska Commercial Company will expire in August, 1890, when the Secretary of the Treasury is required, under the law, to again lease the Seal Islands to responsible parties for another term of twenty years. The present lease has yielded the Government a large sum of money. By the time it expires the aggregate amount of the rental ($55,000 per year) and of tax on skins ($2.62½ each) will have equaled the purchase price of all Alaska, as agreed upon between Secretary Seward and the Russian Government in 1867, viz., $7,200,000.

To offset this large revenue, the expenses have been relatively inconsiderable on the part of the Government—the principal items being some $12,000 or $15,000 per annum for salaries and expenses of the Treasury officers in charge at the islands, and say one-half the cost of the revenue cutter's annual cruise in those waters, equal to about $12,500 more, or perhaps $25,000 or $30,000 in all, annually. The total gross annual yield to the Government from the Seal Islands is $55,000 rental and a tax of $2.62½ each on 100,000 skins, making a total sum of $317,500, when the full catch is taken.

The bidding on the new lease, which will probably be awarded during the coming winter, will be open to all citizens of the United States, with chances in favor of the present lessees, who will naturally make a strenuous effort to "hold the fort" for another term. The expected sharp competition will most certainly run the price up considerably, thus further benefiting the Government.

JOSEPH MEDILL, the eminent editor of the Chicago Tribune, has returned from his voyage beyond the Atlantic. Asked about his impressions of the Paris exposition, he replied:

"It is a great exhibition—wonderful. Nothing like it up to this, and nothing likely to be like it for some time to come. The buildings alone are marvelous fairy palaces, costing enormous sums of money and put up in the very finest French architectural taste. Art is expressed in the highest style. The display of pictures in the great gallery is worth a trip to see. We have no conception of the extent and power of French art. The space devoted to the pictures would, I suppose, occupy more than double that occupied by the Exposition Building on the lake front. The great bulk of the canvases represent the work of French artists, although there are quite a few from England, Italy, Holland and Belgium. Every nation is well represented except Germany. Germany has no exhibit of any kind, although there are crowds of its people in daily attendance."

Mr. Medill, however, expressed a very poor opinion of the American display, declaring it to be very small and meager. "Is it true, as has been asserted," asked the interviewer, "that the exhibition, taken as a whole, is purely a French exhibition?" The veteran editor's reply was:

"Yes, in the sense that the sun in our solar system is the center of it, and that all the other planets are mere bodies swinging around it. I do not think that any nation has an exhibit that compares with the French exhibit in a greater proportion than Jupiter or Saturn compares with the sun—and ours is even in a lesser proportion."

Mr. Medill declared that one can see at the Chicago exposition ten or twenty times as fine a display of American products as will be found at the Paris exhibition.

HERE is something that will be hailed by many a wretched sufferer as even more desirable than the "elixir of life," if it is all that it is claimed to be. Dr. Terc of Vienna has discovered a cure for rheumatism in bee stings. Having found that every stinging is followed by a swelling up to a point when the body seems to have become hardened against further effect, he tried the stinging on a rheumatic patient. Upon saturating the patient's system with the bee poison the rheumatism disappeared.

THE Riverside Press makes this remark, which contains a "side wipe" at San Diego that is significant:

Six vessels have landed freight amounting to 585 tons at the Redondo wharf during the past week, and that place is putting on the airs of a seaport town. San Diego will be jealous if this thing continues.

A SENSATIONAL dispatch comes from Daggett about the robbery of a mine superintendent and the overtaking and thorough killing of the robber, on whose person the stolen money ($5000) was found.

THE Germans are mobilizing troops on the Belgian frontier and in Alsace. Is the entente cordiale about to have the stuffing knocked out of it again?

AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.—Another crowded house was assembled last night to witness the performance of Tobin's good, old-fashioned comedy of The Honeymoon. The piece, which seems to have been chiefly compounded out of ingredients taken from the Taming of the Shrew and Much Ado About Nothing of Shakespeare, is well written, chiefly in blank verse, and contains passages which have passed into current quotations. The character of "Juliana" is one that affords Miss Mather an excellent opportunity for the display of her genuine talent for comedy. In all the changeful moods of the high-tempered vixen, received into the loving wife. She was perfectly at home and captivated her audience. Her athletic power in the destruction of a wooden chair was as much admired as the grace and agility of her movements in the country dance.

She enters with genuine abandon into the spirit of her part, and whatever it calls for she does with all her heart. In the region of comedy, laughter and fun she can always reign supreme, and there is infinitely more pleasure in watching her mischievous expression as "Juliana" than in witnessing her tragic flights as "Juliet."

J. B. Studley was an excellent "Duke Aranza," and Henry Eytinge, as the "Mock Duke," excited more than the usual amount of laughter and applause. The few "rags" he introduced were as amusing as anything else in his part. J. N. Long was a satisfactory "Lopez," and as "Zamora" Virginia Martowe made quite a good impression. The performance as a whole was a satisfactory and successful one.

Tonight the play will be As You Like It, with Miss Mather as "Rosalind."

THE JUVENILES.—At the "West End Theater," 826 Temple street, Saturday afternoon next, will be given another unique juvenile performance. "Peck's Bad Boy" has been dramatized, and will be produced with great eclat and a large quantity of sang froid. The star and the stock company report themselves ready to tackle their respective parts.

EAST SIDE.

A Serious Accident—Two Men Injured.

A serious accident occurred at the corner of Downey avenue and Workman street, in front of the power-house yesterday between 10 and 11 a.m., which came near costing two men their lives. A gang of men were excavating in front of the power-house, making ready to put in storm-water drains for the cable company, and had got about eight feet below the surface when the north side gave way and caved into the excavation. One of the workmen named Betsworth was pinned to the opposite wall and completely covered up, save one hand that stuck out. An Italian named Sipari Antschul was also nearly covered with the loose earth. The laborers present soon released the Italian from his perilous position, where he was suffering from the heavy pressure around him. Betsworth signaled the crowd with his hand not to worry about him.

He was soon rescued from his confinement and, upon examination, was found to be not seriously injured, but badly bruised. He was taken home, where he was cared for, and at last report was doing well. Antschul was taken to the police station and medical aid was summoned. He was found on examination that his shoulder had been dislocated, and it was feared that he had been hurt internally.

There seems to be some blame attached to the foreman for excavating in that particular locality without protection, as the excavation was very near another that had been filled with loose dirt and at one end a wall had been put in, breaking the connection of solid dirt, and thus sliding the entire side in upon the workmen.

Mounted Police.

The first drill of the mounted squad of the police force was had last evening, at the corner of Flower and Ninth streets. The procession formed at the station, under command of Sergeant Maguire, where they were reviewed by Chief Glass. Commissioner Knox acted as drill-master. He had some difficulty in getting a revised tactics, but finally compromised on a copy of the artillery drill, which, with certain modifications, answered the purpose very well. The drill last evening was a great success, and will be repeated every week until the cavalry arm of the service is brought up to a proper degree of efficiency. It is said that Sergeant Maguire will also introduce the "riata" exercise, as it will be valuable in lassoing loose horses.

A Stolen Watch.

Detective Billy Boland yesterday afternoon arrested a Chinese gambler named Quong Ah Yen, at his place on Second street, between Alameda and San Pedro, on the complaint of Ah Goen, another heathen, who accused Yen of having robbed him of $41.10. Yen was brought to the police station, where on being searched, a silver watch, with a gold chain and square locket, on which was the following inscription: "Mr. John Brown, from a few of his friends, on his leaving Glasgow for California, May 4, 1886." A description answering to the same locket was left at the station about a year ago, and the fact of it being found in Yen's possession, is likely to operate against him, when the smooth heathen comes to trial.

"She Cawn't Help it, You Know."

An evening contemporary says that Margaret Mather has a western accent, but that "She cawn't help it, you know," because she was raised there. The apology is a rather clumsy one, and the dramatic critic of the same paper, in alluding to the defect, gets around the trouble much more delicately by calling it "A slight hoarseness, which sometimes marred the accents of an otherwise sweet voice." The fair Margaret was in excellent voice, as a matter of fact, but everything depends upon the point of view, you know.

Sparring Exhibition.

The fight between Billy Mehan and John Ellingsworth having been declared off, the friends of the former pugilist intend to give him a benefit on tomorrow evening.

Denny Kelleher, who defeated Joe Ellingsworth in forty-three rounds, and who is matched to fight Bill Mc Carthy, the middle weight champion of Australia, will be master of ceremonies, and local talent will appear. The wind-up will be between Billy Mehan and Billy Manning, and a good evening's sport is expected.

Considering from whom Uncle Sam purchased Alaska, it is highly appropriate that the two revenue cutters just now in Bering Sea should be named the Rush and Bear.—[Terre Haute Express.

PARTED KINDLY.

President Harrison Accepts Tanner's Resignation,

And Writes a Friendly Letter to the Ex-Commissioner.

Fairchild and Warner Mentioned for the Place.

Corporal Tanner's Friends Among the Veterans of the District Very Bitter Over the Affair, Etc., Etc.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—[By the Associated Press.] Commissioner Tanner's letter of resignation has been made public. He says:

"The differences which exist between the Secretary of the Interior and myself as to the policy to be pursued in the administration of the Pension Bureau have reached a stage which threatens to embarrass you to an extent which I feel I should not call upon you to suffer, and as the investigation into the affairs of the bureau has been completed, and I am assured by both yourself and the Secretary of the Interior the report contains no reflection on my integrity as an individual or as an officer, I herewith place my resignation in your hands, to take effect at your pleasure, to the end that you may be relieved of any further embarrassment in the matter."

President Harrison, in reply, accepted the resignation, to take effect when his successor qualifies, and adds:

"I don't think it necessary in this correspondence to discuss the causes which led to the present attitude of affairs in the Pension Office. You have been kindly and fully advised of my views upon the most of these matters. It gives me pleasure to add that, so far as I am advised, your honesty has not at any time been called in question, and I beg to renew the expression of my personal good will."

Gossip as to Tanner's successor is now engaging attention. Today ex-Congressman Warner, of Missouri, ex-Commander-in-Chief of the G.A.R., is believed most likely to be appointed. The other candidates are ex-Pension Agent Poole, of Syracuse, Gen. Charles E. Brown, of Cincinnati, and Gen. Powell, of Illinois.

To a reporter Tanner said today: "The President did not ask for my resignation, nor did he advise that I resign. He assured me that the investigation into the affairs of the Pension Office had developed nothing that reflected upon my honesty or good intentions, and he said if I remained in office Secretary Noble would resign. I decided it better that I should resign."

Secretary Noble said to a reporter that there was nothing personal in the causes which led to the severance of official relations between himself and Tanner. It was entirely due to a difference of opinion in regard to matters of official administration. Secretary Noble added that the story of a wrangle between himself and Secretary Tracy was not true neither in word or thought.

Private Secretary Halford said no issue was ever made by Secretary Noble to the President as to whether he or Mr. Tanner should go. There was never any formal Cabinet consultation about the matter, and there was no disagreement whatever among the members. Mr. Halford added that the question was not at all in the President's mind whether one of the two persons should go.

It was stated this evening by a gentleman in a position to speak with some authority, that there will be no haste about filling the position, and what Tanner will do is still a matter of conjecture.

Tonight the names of John P. Rea of Minneapolis and ex-Gov. Lucius Fairchild of Wisconsin, both ex-Commanders-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, have been added to those spoken of as possible successors to Tanner. Ex-Commander-in-Chief Warner of Kansas City will arrive in Washington tomorrow. It is said Secretary Noble's telegram calling him hither was sent without the knowledge of the President.

Hancock command of Union Veterans Union tonight adopted resolutions condemning the administration for accepting Tanner's resignation and indorsing the latter's management of the Pension Bureau.

CATTLE AND BEEF.

Report of the Bureau of Animal Industry.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—[By the Associated Press.] The annual report of the Bureau of Animal Industry for 1887 and 1888 will soon be issued, and with regard to the beef supply the report says:

"During the past year, in response to a widespread demand on the part of those interested, the bureau made special efforts to obtain reliable data as to the number of cattle in the country. Trustworthy agents familiar with the range-cattle industry were sent into various Territories to gather the most accurate figures obtainable. In addition to the figures so collected, the estimates of the statistical division as to the number of cattle in the States have been carefully gone over and revised in accordance with the latest information obtainable. A comparison of the figures so compiled with the population since 1850 shows the increase of population from 23,-191,876 in 1850 to 63,464,501 in 1878, while the number of cattle has increased in the same period from 17,778,907 to 48,923,889. There was a steady increase in the number of milch cows and a steady decline in the number of steers per thousand of population from 275 in 1850 to 236 in 1882, since when the proportion has hardly varied.

"A close comparison of the mean price of steers in Chicago per 100 pounds, with exports of cattle and beef products carried through a series of years, clearly indicate that beef prices are effected by other conditions than those of supply, that is, the number in proportion to population and exports."

GAMBLERS MUST GO.

Orders to Evict a Gang Occupying Government Land.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—[By the Associated Press.] The Secretary of the Treasury has received a telegram from Sacramento, Cal., stating that a firm of pool sellers has taken possession of a building on the site of the Government building there, and are plying their business in defiance of the law. The matter was referred to Supervising Architect Windrim, who reports the building in question not purchased with the site by the Government, but is the property of the vendors, who were privileged to remove it. Still the Government has jurisdiction over the land, and the Solicitor of the Treasury has been requested to notify the District Attorney at Sacramento to cause the premises to be vacated immediately.

The New Mexico Convention.

SANTA FE (N. M.), Sept. 12.—In the State Constitutional Convention today the discussion of the report of the Committee on Legislative Department was resumed, and after an animated debate the article was amended in some material respects and adopted. Among other things, it provides that in addition to the State University, Agricultural College, Asylum for the Insane and School of Mines, already established by law, one or more normal schools shall be provided. The large vote which the latter clause receives is regarded as significant in foreshadowing the action of the convention, when the convention comes to the adoption of the clause relating to the common schools.

The Caesmen.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 12.—John A. St. John received a cablegram from Henry Ernest Searle, the champion sculler, offering to row Gaudaur on the Thames in a month for $2500 a side; otherwise he will row him on the Paramatta. St. John says Gaudaur will not row on the Thames or Paramatta, but is willing to row on any English or Irish lake. The Teemer-Gaudaur race takes place at McKeesport, Pa., tomorrow, and is exciting great interest.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—Searle, who defeated O'Connor on Monday for the sculling championship of the world, has challenged O'Connor to meet him again. He has also issued a challenge to Gaudaur.

The Iroquois Not a Success.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—The United States man-of-war Iroquois, which was recently repaired at Mare Island Navy-yard, was given a trial trip in the bay this week pending sending her to Honolulu. The maximum developed, with the tide in her favor, was a little over 8 knots, and her average speed was 7 2-10 knots. She was built 10 years ago, and at that time was considered one of the finest wooden vessels afloat. Her repairs were hurriedly completed. In view of the low rate of speed developed this week there is some doubt expressed as to whether or not she will be sent to Honolulu.

Southern Regulators Again.

MERIDIAN (Miss.), Sept. 12.—Reports have reached this city to the effect that a band of white caps or regulators burned a negro church last night at Post Oak, 12 miles west of Paulding, in Jasper county. It is stated that trouble between the races has been brewing for some time, and recently several negroes have been whipped and ordered to leave. The Sheriff and posse left the county seat today for the scene of trouble, and will act promptly in the matter.

Reliable parties from Jasper county tonight say the rumors are exaggerated.

Forming a Big Orange Trust.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—A special from St. Louis says: Leading wholesale fruit dealers of St. Louis are at present considering the advisability of going into the combination with similar houses throughout the larger markets of the country, for the purpose of controlling the Florida orange crop. Early developments in the matter are to be expected, as the New York end of the proposed combination is pushing things vigorously, and has already secured coöperation in other cities. Investigation among St. Louis houses shows that a gigantic "orange trust" is in progress.

The Roadmasters' Convention.

DENVER (Colo.), Sept. 12.—The Roadmasters' Convention today elected as president John Sloan of the Ohio, Indiana and Western Railway, at Indianapolis, and as first vice-president W. H. Courtney of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern, at Erie, Pa.; as second vice-president, John Doyle, of the Detroit Lansing and Northern, at Ionia, Mich.; secretary and treasurer, John P. Evidence Against Ives.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The trial of Henry S. Ives, of Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton wrecking fame, was continued today. Ex-Secretary Short was on the stand during the entire session, and testified at length regarding the increase of stock and its manipulation by the combine. Witness said Ives asked him but once to do an improper thing—to draw on the treasurer of the Terre Haute and Indianapolis road for $18,000—which witness refused to do because he had heard that the firm of Ives & Co. was about to fail.

Dr. Carver's Record Broken.

BUFFALO (N.Y.), Sept. 12.—Dr. Bartlett today concluded successfully his attempt to beat Dr. Carver's record of breaking 60,000 glass balls in six days. He finished at 5:30 p.m. today, with a total of 64,017. Dr. Bartlett also achieved the phenomenal record of breaking 10 balls in eight seconds.

The Sharon Divorce Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—A motion to dismiss the Sharon divorce case was argued before Judge Shafter today. Counsel for the Sharon estate claimed that the action was for a divorce and that the death of the defendant abated it. Counsel for Mrs. Terry claimed that the Supreme Court had declared that the case was not simply an action for divorce. The matter was taken under advisement upon briefs to be filed.

Brodie Went Over the Falls.

TORONTO, Sept. 12.—William E. Harding who, because of his connection with the recent Sullivan-Kilrain prize fight is an unwilling sojourner here, stated positively today that Steve Brodie did go over the falls, and that he formed one of the Brodie party, and witnessed the whole affair, of which he gave a detailed account. He stated further that Brodie will shortly go over the American falls.

Large Gifts to Charity.

NEW HAVEN (Ct.), Sept. 12.—The will of Mrs. Ellen M. Gifford of New Haven, widow of Arthur N. Gifford of New York, who died last week, after giving legacies of $150,000 to her own and her husband's relatives and $50,000 to various friends, leaves the rest of her property, amounting to nearly $300,000, to charitable objects.

A Whirlwind's Work.

VICTORIA (B. C.), Sept. 12.—A whirlwind at Lubi Island, on Tuesday, devastated the whole country through which it passed, uprooting gigantic trees and leaving the thickly-wooded surface as bare as a board. As far as can be ascertained no lives were lost, though several homesteads were torn down.

Death of an Engineer.

all on board—nine persons. This again raises the loss of life to 31.

FLEEING FROM THE SEA.

Exciting Scenes at Atlantic City During the Storm.

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 12.—[By the Associated Press.] There were many exciting scenes during the storm. Tuesday morning the summer visitors became panic-stricken, and rushed half-clad from the hotels to the railroad depot, tumbled pell-mell into the cars, and forced the trainmen to make up trains. Finally four trainloads were made up with locomotives in front and rear and started for the mainland. They went slowly, for the water was several feet deep over the tracks, and the waves dashed against the car windows, smashing them in and drenching the occupants. Finally it became evident that the mainland couldn't be reached, and the trains started back. They had only gone a short distance when the fires in the locomotive were extinguished and the trains were brought to a standstill in the midst of the raging waters. The scene was indescribable till the relief engines finally arrived and succeeded, with much difficulty, in dragging the trains to a place of safety.

Late Tuesday night the whistle of a steamer was heard, and she went aground, but the waves were so great that the life-saving crew could do nothing toward rescue. It is supposed she has gone to pieces and all drowned. Wreckage came ashore yesterday bearing the name "Philadoux."

Fifteen thousand people will leave here today and tomorrow. It will take a month for this city to recover from the loss the storm caused. The wind still blows 35 to 40 miles an hour, and it is still raining. Beach tides have not been large today, consequently they are unaccompanied by further damage. The meadows are still three or four feet under water.

It is estimated that $150,000 will not cover the loss to Atlantic City and her interests. Great joy was manifested this morning when messengers were dispatched throughout the city to announce that the first train since Monday afternoon would start at 10 o'clock. A great rush was made for the Camden and Atlantic Railroad station, and in less than half an hour there was a crowd large enough to fill five sections. All were sent. The first section had eight passenger coaches and a baggage car. Every car was crowded even to the standing space. The trip across the meadows was one not soon to be forgotten. Hundreds of pleasure boats of all sizes and descriptions were packed close to the roadbed. The masts of many of these had to be cut away to permit the trains to cross.

CAPE MAY COURTHOUSE (N. J.), Sept. 12.—The storm in this vicinity is the worst known since the blizzard. No lives have been lost, but the following properties were destroyed: Moch's House and pavilion, the Duboise cottage, Rodgers House and pavilion, Burke's two houses and the houses of Hutchinson, Needham and Babcock, eleven in all. More may go if the storm continues. At Wildwood, the Wildwood Hotel is a total loss, and part of the sea wall is gone. These points, also Sea Isle City, Ocean City and Avalon are entirely cut off from communication, both by railroad and telegraph, and the extent of the damage at the latter places can only be surmised. The report that Townsend's inlet drawbridge and several cottages at Sea Isle are destroyed is generally believed to be true. The entire meadow is one vast sheet of water. The Anglesea train which was wrecked on Tuesday still lies in the ditch. The track is nearly all destroyed for a distance of five miles. The storm is still raging, with the wind north-northeast and blowing 50 miles an hour.

ALONG THE COAST.

Steamer Ashore at Norfolk, Va.—The Storm Still Raging.

NORFOLK (Va.), Sept. 12.—[By the Associated Press.] An unknown brigantine-rigged steamer, with a red and yellow funnel, came ashore outside of Cape Henry. Up to 10 p.m. the life-saving crew had not succeeded in getting a line to her. The wind was 80 miles an hour and the sea rough. The steamer came from the south. She may get off at high water, the wind being off shore.

ON THE NEW ENGLAND COAST.

CHATHAM (Mass.), Sept. 12.—A sunken vessel has been discovered on Pollock Rip shoal. She is supposed to be a three-masted schooner with main-mast gone. It is thought she was running for the light-ship in thick weather last night, but failed to get hold of the light and struck the shoal. She pounded heavily all the way across the terrible sea, knocking holes in her bottom. She leaked badly and sunk as soon as she struck deep water. It is feared all hands were lost.

VINEYARD HAVEN (Mass.), Sept. 12.—The heavy east-northeast wind still continued this morning. There has been no steamer from Nantucket for three days. All telegraphic communication with Marthas' Vineyard and the main land stopped early yesterday morning. The schooner Edwin at Edgartown, whose cargo of lime took fire, burned up.

STILL RAGING AT LONG BRANCH.

LONG BRANCH (N. J.), Sept. 12.—The new inlet cut through Sandy Hook peninsula above Seabright is being rapidly widened and deepened by the assaults of the surf. The streets on the west side of Seabright are still under six feet of water.

ASBURY PARK (N. J.), Sept. 12.—The storm is still raging heavily along the coast. At 2 o'clock rain was falling in torrents and blowing "great gun."

RUMORS AT NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—In shipping circles all sorts of rumors are flying around of marine disasters. Many belated vessels came in this morning with tales of high seas and terrible weather. Reports from quarantine show that many vessels are quartered there. The United States man-of-war Atlanta, which left Brooklyn navy-yard the fore part of this week, and had been given up as lost by the newspapers, passed in this morning.

The National Line steamer England, from Liverpool, arrived today after one of the roughest voyages ever encountered. At midnight, Tuesday, one of the firemen was washed overboard and drowned. The England was struck by the storm Tuesday. The wind and sea were something terrible. Capt. Healey says the steamer almost turned over by the combined force of the wind and sea. She careened over until the tips of her yards dipped into the water.

The steamer Columbia from Havana is three days overdue. The owners are anxious.

A weather prophet here is out with the statement that by 6 o'clock this evening New Yorkers will see the last of the big storm.

A CELEBRATION STOPPED.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 12.—The storm has made ducks and drakes of the Baltimore celebration. It has practically been killed for two days, and today it is not much better. The labor parade today dwindled to 2000. The feature of today will be a sham battle on North Point. Tonight the post-office will be dedicated. Speeches will be delivered by members of the Cabinet and other prominents.

MOUNTAIN FIRES.

Great Damage on the Central Pacific—Trains Delayed.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 12.—[By the Associated Press.] Fire has been raging in the mountains near Cascade for three or four days. Railroad men have been fighting it with two trains, but this morning it got beyond control and burned 200 feet of bridge over a deep gulch about three and a quarter miles west of Cascade. It is also burning in the snowsheds. Arrangements have been made to transfer passengers and mails at the burnt district for three or four days until the bridge is repaired.

TRUCKEE, Sept. 12.—The railroad bridge at Upper Cascade, six miles east of Summit Station, was burned this afternoon, together with a mile of snowsheds. Forest fires communicated with the sheds and thence to the bridge, which is over 200 feet long and 100 feet high. All trains are cancelled, but if the fire is subdued during the night, a transfer will probably be effected tomorrow.

CHARITY AND CORRECTION.

Reports Made at the Conference at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—[By the Associated Press.] The session of the National Conference of Charities and Corrections was called to order by Bishop Gillespie this morning, and after prayer by Rev. Mr. Wendte, F. H. Wines, of Illinois, submitted a report of the Committee on Reports of States.

He summarized the condition of the various Commonwealths unrepresented in the convention and then called upon delegates to present reports upon the condition of Charities and Corrections in their respective States.

Reports were accordingly made by Mrs. Joseph S. Spear, Jr., of California; Alexander Johnson of Indiana, Mrs. Jacobs and Mr. Apple of Colorado, and H. H. Hart of Minnesota.

Dr. A. G. Byers spoke on the subject of homes for children.

TWO BURGLARS CAUGHT.

Their Heavy Haul at a Santa Rosa Residence.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 12.—[By the Associated Press.] W. F. Lamar and J. Boyd were arrested here today by Sonoma county officers and taken to Santa Rosa to answer a charge of burglary. The house of Isaac Parsons, a wealthy resident of Santa Rosa, was entered about three weeks ago and $40,000 worth of valuable papers, including certificates of bank stock, mortgages, notes and checks, were stolen. The officers have been investigating the case and connected Lamar and Boyd with the burglary. The papers were all recovered from a saloon-keeper, with whom they had been left by Lamar, with instructions to deliver them to Boyd.

NEAGLE'S CASE.

Arguments on the Question of Jurisdiction Finished.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—[By the Associated Press.] Argument in the Neagle case was resumed today before Judges Sawyer and Sabin. The attorney for Neagle contended that the prisoner was justified in law and reason for shooting Terry, and asked the Court to dismiss him from custody.

District Attorney White of San Joaquin county argued in behalf of the jurisdiction of the State, claimed that a crime was committed on the State's soil, and Neagle should be tried by the State. White submitted the case after asking the Court to turn Neagle over to the State for trial.

The court then adjourned until tomorrow.

Racing at Sacramento.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 12.—In the 2:23 class, purse of $1200—Thopsin won in three straight heats, Senator second, Victor third. Best time, 2:22.

Crushed to Death.

REDDING, Sept. 12.—Frank G., third son of Rev. R. G. Hart, one of the owners of the Georgia mine, the old diggings six miles from Redding, met with an accident Wednesday evening which resulted in death this morning. He lived in Sacramento and was upon a vacation. While turning on the water that runs the quartz mill his jumper caught on the key of a pulley on the shaft, swinging him around three times, breaking his legs and crushing one arm and shoulder. He was 16 years old.

Three San Quentin Convicts Escape.

SAN QUENTIN, Sept. 12.—Three convicts, bakers employed in the prison mess, escaped at 7:45 tonight over the walls by means of a ladder and rope. Their names are: J. R. No Evidence Against Ureta.

OCEANSIDE, Sept. 12.—The preliminary examination of Zerada Ureta, for aiding and abetting Sylvestro Morales in the recent depredations committed in this county, was held before Justice Frazer this evening and resulted in the dismissal of the prisoner, there being no evidence against him.

An Unfounded Report.

KNOXVILLE (Tenn.), Sept. 12.—The item sent out from Lynchburg this afternoon to the effect that 17 men were killed in a mine disaster at Jellico is entirely untrue. The story probably originated from the fact that a colored miner was injured two days ago by falling slate.

Naval Review at Esquimault.

VICTORIA (B. C.), Sept. 12.—The entire available force of men on the five war-ships now at Esquimault, landed today and went through various maneuvers, a sham fight, drill, concluding with a review of the forces by the Admirals. About 1000 men took part.

ORANGE COUNTY NEWS.

The Settlers on the Las Bolsas—Ureta—Notes.

SANTA ANA, Sept. 12.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The settlers who have for so long a time occupied the land of the Las Bolsas tract are naturally loth to leave their homes without a final effort on their part to remain. In order that they might know exactly how matters stood in relation thereto, R. J. Northam of Anaheim has addressed a letter to Trustee Harrison, and in reply thereto many facts contained therein may be of interest. The letter is written by H. D. Harrison, attorney in fact for A. Dalton Harrison. From the letter is gleaned that the lands are for sale, at prices to be determined upon later. To those at present 'occupying portions of these lands, under contract for purchase, from A. Robinson, trustee, the writer states he will be disposed to deal liberally with, and he will give them an opportunity to pay up in accordance with the terms of their contracts and take their deeds. To others he will sell at prices to be fixed later on, and as those on the ground will have the first option of purchase. If the land is not wanted by them it must be vacated, when it will be thrown upon the market, subject to purchase by any one. Reasonable time will be given for the removal of present crops to those who propose vacating.

In conclusion, the gentleman states that "fair, business-like treatment will be awarded to all without regard to anything in the past."

The Board of Trade has called a meeting to be held at Spurgeon's Hall on Friday afternoon, September 13th, to organize a farmers' alliance to aid in the establishment of a permanent exhibit, to hear the report of the committee upon sugar-beet culture, and to take such further action in the establishment of a sugar refinery in this valley as may seem proper. A committee consisting of M. J. Bundy, W. S. Taylor and W. S. Bartlett was appointed to represent Orange county at the meeting to be held at Los Angeles, Saturday, September 14th, to consider the matter of organizing a "Southern California on Wheels."

At the City Trustees' meeting the bond of J. J. Hedges of Los Angeles, for the water franchise, amounting to $40,000, was accepted. The bondsmen of Mr. Hedges are: George C. Hopkins, $10,000; J. E. Yoakum, $20,000; Sherman Smith, $5000; Otto V. Gray, $2000, and Harmon & Morton, the latter not being named in any amount. Nothing now remains but to commence operations upon the city's water-works, and Mr. Hedges asserts that dirt will commence to fly at once. He asserts that he has all the plans and specifications ready, and that pipe-laying will commence at once.

That Santa Ana is improving daily, and commanding the attention of outside capital, has been illustrated in several instances this week. The representative of a tobacconist firm has been looking over its ground, and has decided to commence the construction of a cigar factory on a large scale. It is claimed that this valley is peculiarly adapted to the growing of tobacco, and the railroad and shipping facilities add another inducement to those interested in the growth of the weed.

Two gentlemen are now looking for a location to construct a foundry here. It was said the other evening, at a meeting of the Board of Trade, that at least $40,000 had been spent away from home for foundry work, and it will be well if this work can be done here.

Zeraldo Ureta, who is under arrest for aiding and abetting Morales in his late depredations in this section of the country, has been in jail in this city since his arrest. It was expected that Keno Wilson would come after him yesterday, as Marshal Insley was obliged to attend court in a criminal case in Los Angeles. Wilson, with his prisoner, will leave today for Oceanside.

NOTES.

The Pacific Mail Steamship Company has found business enough of late to justify it in establishing an office in this city.

Robert McFadden reports that work is still being pushed on the Newport Railroad.

At the session of the Superior Court yesterday, an order of publication of summons was made in the case of Petit vs. Petit. In the matter of the guardianship of Laura A. Juden, it was ordered that Malvena Luedke be given five days' notice, and that the cause be set for hearing on September 18th.

The directors of the Board of Trade will hold regular meetings every Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and all who have matters to bring before the board can do so at that time.

Mr. De Witt, and a party of gentlemen from Los Angeles, had a narrow escape yesterday by the running away of a double team which he was driving. They were all thrown out, and, although the rig was demolished, no one was injured.

John W. Gardner, of Los Angeles, was in the city yesterday for a short time.

Miss N. L. Clewette will hereafter act as night operator for the Western Union. Mr. McCandlish, who has formerly performed that duty, has left for Maricopa to take charge of an office there.

The managers of the Public Library have decided to give an entertainment and ice-cream social, the proceeds to be devoted to the fitting up of a free reading-room.

The Verdi Choral Society had its first practice rehearsal at the music parlors of Miss Nell Frazer last evening. The society intends visiting Coronado, when sufficiently rehearsed, and giving an entertainment there, it having received an invitation from the managers of that resort. F.

Atlantic and Pacific Strikers.

ALBUQUERQUE, Sept. 12.—Rumors of a strike of trainmen on the Atlantic and Pacific reached here today. It is exceedingly difficult to get the facts, as nothing comes over the wires from Winslow except between officials of the road, and that is in cipher. The state of the case has been represented as follows: Two freight conductors were discharged at Winslow, who belong to the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors. The official by whom they were discharged is Chief of the Order of Railway Conductors, between which order and the brotherhood there exist no good feeling. Because of the discharge the Brotherhood of Brakemen went out on a strike demanding that the conductors be restored.

Boston Merchants Anxious for Reciprocity with Canada.

The Perpetrator of a Terrible Crime Discovered.

Colored Baptists in Favor of Their Brethren in the South Resisting the Rule of Regulators.

By Telegraph to the Times.

TOPEKA (Kan.), Sept. 12.—[By the Associated Press.] The bitter feeling between the citizens of Ravenna and Eminence over the unsettled county-seat question was renewed yesterday by the removal by W. T. Williams, the Treasurer, of the county records of his office from Ravenna to Eminence.

A guard of Ravenna citizens was detailed to watch the Treasurer to prevent this removal. Yesterday the guards attended a judicial district convention and Williams loaded the records of his office into a wagon and was about to drive off when an alarm was given.

The guards hurried from the convention, and arming themselves, hastily hitched up a team and started in pursuit of the Treasurer. At a cross road they mistook another wagon for the Treasurer's, and followed the wrong trail. They were too slow for the team in advance, and in their rage fired several shots at the supposed fugitive, who finally escaped.

In the meantime, Williams had reached Eminence, and put the records in a place of safety. The citizens of Eminence have armed themselves in anticipation of an attempt by the Ravenna people to capture the records and return them to their city.

MURDER WILL OUT.

The Perpetrators of a Terrible Crime Discovered.

DENVER (Col.), Sept. 12.—[By the Associated Press.] The murderer of S. Morris Waln, of Haverford, Pa., and C. H. Strong, of New York, two young hunters, who were killed in Carbon county, June 27, 1888, has at last been discovered in the person of Thomas O'Brien, who is now serving a term of fifteen years in the Canon City, Colo., penitentiary for stealing horses near Colorado Springs. Since the murder Jacob F. Waln, a brother of one of the murdered men, made every endeavor to secure the arrest of the guilty party who was believed to be a guide and teamster for the young men on their trip through Wyoming. On the night of June 25, 1888, the three men stopped at the house of a rancher not far from Rawlins. They left early next morning and three days afterward the dead bodies of Waln and Strong were found on the prairie, while the team and driver were gone and have not since been heard of. Some months ago the Sheriff of Colorado Springs advertised for the arrest of O'Brien for horse-stealing. One of the circulars with one of O'Brien's photographs fell into the hands of the Rawlins ranchman, who identified him as the man who stopped at his house with Waln and Strong on the night of June 26th. O'Brien was finally arrested and sentenced to 15 years. These facts came to the knowledge of Mr. Waln, who came West and took the ranchman to the prison, where he picked out the alleged murderer from 15 or 20 other prisoners. Mr. Waln left tonight for Wyoming. His purpose is to have O'Brien taken to Wyoming to be tried for murder.

COLORED BAPTISTS.

They Take Action on Recent Outrages in the South.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 12.—[By the Associated Press.] The National Association of Colored Baptists began its annual session in this city today. About a hundred delegates were present, representing almost every State in the Union. Several delegates, while on their way here, were assaulted at a small station in Georgia. They appeared before the meeting and exhibited their injuries, and Rev. E. K. Lane of Savannah gave a graphic account of the assault, which stirred the delegates to a high pitch of excitement. Many expressed themselves as being in favor of advising the southern brethren to arm themselves and resist further attacks.

Resolutions were adopted stating it to be the duty of the confederation to raise its voice in uncompromising terms against these outrages; that the grievances be laid before the President and Governors of all the States where these outrages are perpetrated, and ask for the protection that belongs to citizens of the United States; that the facts and petition be telegraphed to the President and Attorney-General, with the request for an immediate investigation.

A committee will be appointed to wait upon the President. The entire day was given up to a discussion of the assault, and many advised a resort to arms.

WORKMEN ABROAD.

Their Condition Less Prosperous Than in This Country.

NEW YORK Sept. 12.—[By the Associated Press.] Fifty American workingmen and women who went to Europe last July to investigate the condition of European workmen arrived here today. Thompson, manager of the party, said: "Well, workmen there are not to be compared with ours. Almost every trade was represented in our party, and they examined carefully the products and machinery of the old country. It was observed that the machinery was cumbersome and lacks the completeness seen in our country. We have had remarkable success from the time we started. We were met everywhere with courtesy and treated in the best possible manner. It was found that wages were, on an average, 33 per cent. lower than in this country."

H. M. Ogden of Cincinnati went with the party and investigated the printing trade. He said in Europe they are about where the printers of this country were 20 years ago.

Joseph Thorpe of Murfreesboro, Ill., looked into engineering work in Europe. They were not organized, he said, and wages were about 50 per cent. lower than in this country.

RECIPROCITY FAVORED.

Boston Merchants Want Closer Relations with Canada.

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—[By the Associated Press.] Before the Senate committee, today, John L. Batchelder, representing the Coal Trade Association; F. H. Odiorne, a coal dealer; T. J. Coolidge, representing the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company of New Hampshire; Hon. Jonathan Lane, representing the Boston Merchants' Association, and Horace P. Tobey of the Tremont Nail Works testified. Their views were largely in favor of reciprocity with Canada.

Ex-Gov. Laflin, speaking for the shoe and leather industry, said it favored reciprocity. The people of New England, he said, were generally favorable to closer relations with Canada.

Osborne Howes, secretary of the Boston Fire Underwriters' Union, expressed the same view.

Save Celestin, the livery-man, arrested by Officer Dorsey several days ago for fast driving and disturbing the peace, was yesterday fined $15 by Judge Stanton on the first charge. Celestin paid the fine, when the other charge against him was dismissed.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

Sunday Observance.

"A MINISTER'S REPLY TO A WORKINGMAN."

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 9.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] Although unnecessary for me to say one word in defense of the Christian ministry, assailed by opponents of a Sunday law, I wish such as your correspondent in today's TIMES to know that, whether he thinks so or not, workingmen have no better friends on earth than the ministers he criticises. They want a Sunday law because workingmen need it—because the lack of it tends to the ruin and beggary of the country. It has been proved abundantly that six days at a stretch is as long as either man or beast can work long without suffering; and, therefore, to save the workingman, his wife and children from the curse of continuous labor, ministers will do all they can to secure the Sunday law.

But he seems to say that the ministers' chief work, preaching, should also be stopped on the Sunday because it is his "work"—work for which he is paid. He knows, or should know, as most workingmen certainly know well, that the ministers' work of the Sunday is just as right and proper as other people's rest is proper on that day; and that were the ministers to rest instead of preaching he himself would be one of the first to censure and condemn him for it." And he is equally mistaken when he would argue that the ministers concerned wish or seek to bring about one iota of "religious intolerance," ordinary work on the Sunday, with Sabbath desecration, are the sources of the most and worst intolerance of the day. Why must the railway hand, the street-car hand, the poor jaded hack, or any other six-day worker, be robbed of the day of rest? It is simply impossible to run street cars or railways on the Sunday without depriving many persons of the rest-day, and "A Workingman" would seem to wish to make such men work forever—Sunday and week day—simply that he and others like him may have their mere amusements!

I feel certain of one thing, viz., that "B. R. S." did not himself hear Dr. Crafts argue the Sunday law question, or he would never have written his letter. I repeat, ministers are among the workingman's best and truest friends. A SEVENTH REST DAY.

A Guinea Pig Farm.

[Pittsburgh Dispatch.]

There is talk of a scheme to form a company in this city for the purpose of breeding and raising guinea pigs on an extensive scale. The idea is to organize a stock company, buy a piece of land and breed the little animals so as to secure their tissue, to be used in making injections into the human system according to the Brown-Sequard discovery for renewing or stimulating life.

The capital stock of the company, if formed, is to be $25,000. They intend to lease a piece of ground at once and begin operations as soon as possible. Several thousand of the pigs will, in that event, be brought from Norway and Sweden, where the best breeds of the world are to be found; the farm will be stocked with them, and, as soon as the young ones are raised, the older ones will be marketed to physicians and others who desire their life-stimulating tissues.

PASADENA NEWS.

PREPARING FOR THE SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA EXHIBIT.

A Committee Appointed to Canvass the Citizens—The School Question—Local Intelligence—School Meetings—Personal Gossip.

PASADENA, Sept. 12.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The citizens' meeting, called this afternoon, to talk over the proposed fruit exhibit in the East, in connection with the advertising of the "California on Wheels," met in the Board of Trade rooms at 3:30 o'clock.

On motion, Judge Knight was chosen chairman and John W. Jones secretary.

The object of the meeting was stated by J. A. Buchanan, who was one of the Board of Trade delegates to the conference of the Southern California board of trades at San Diego, last Saturday.

H. J. Vail made a further report that the manager of the Union Pacific would have nothing to do with the exhibit, and that the Santa Fé had agreed to donate the use of a car free of cost. The delegates, the speaker thought, must be able to state what Pasadena can do before the conference at Los Angeles, on Saturday. Mr. Vail thought a committee should be appointed to canvass the citizens before the meeting.

A. F. M. Strong wished to be enlightened as to when the exhibit would start on its trip east. The gentleman was informed that it was proposed to send the car by October 1st, to continue on the road about three months or longer.

C. C. Brown made a motion that a canvass be made at once, the money for the exhibit to come through the channels of the Board of Trade, and a committee be appointed. Carried.

The committee is composed of Messrs. Brown, Conway, Buchanan, Strong and Vail.

SCHOOL MASS MEETING.

A very large and enthusiastic school meeting was held in Williams's Hall this evening, over 150 citizens being present. Dr. O. H. Conger was elected chairman and Theodore Coleman secretary.

Col. Banbury said that as there was a copy of the District Attorney's opinion sent out, he would like to hear it read before the meeting.

W. S. Wright produced the opinion and the secretary read it.

Mr. Banbury said: "Every act done during the past five years in the San Pascual school district was illegal, leaving the matter in a very serious situation. The district had out $86,000 in bonds, some of which were held by citizens. My own impression is that we ought to obtain the best legal talent to make an examination of the whole subject."

H. J. Vail then arose and, in indorsing Col. Banbury's opinion, said that the schools should open next Monday, but if we had a County Superintendent with brains enough there would have been no muddle of this kind.

Legal opinions were then asked from various attorneys in the audience. Mr. McLachlan claimed to be the best abused man in the city, and made an able statement of his side of the case, and, in closing his address, paid a glowing tribute to the steps taken by the County Superintendent in the matter.

H. J. Vail then made a motion to accept the opinion of the District Attorney, and a strong debate, lasting one hour, followed.

Speeches were also made by Rev. Crawford, J. A. Buchanan, A. G. Throop, and Rev. C. D. Hill, in favor of receiving and adopting the report. E. E. Spalding thought a majority should rule, but was not exactly in favor of receiving the document.

Among the remaining speakers were Judge Knight, who made an able but somewhat sarcastic address, and Webster Wotkyns, who, speaking for the West Side, said that nine-tenths of his people wanted Prof. Holder for School Trustee. His name was received with deafening applause.

The report was finally adopted by a unanimous vote. This ends the school controversy, and W. F. Munroe of Pennsylvania assumes the superintendency of our schools in the Pasadena city school district for one year.

LOCAL MENTION.

The Hoosiers are having a picnic today in Santa Anita Cañon.

A boy hit a horse with a whip on East Colorado street at an early hour this morning, and the consequence was he and an aged lady were thrown from the buggy. No damage to speak of occurred.

R. H. Kavanaugh, a merchant tailor of San Francisco, will in a few days enter suit for $100,000 damages in the Superior Court at Los Angeles against the Santa Fé road for maintaining a defective crossing, as to cause the death of his wife.

The Committee on Fire and Water of the City Council held a meeting this morning, and decided unanimously in favor of a reorganization of the fire department. It will submit its report to the Board of Trustees on Saturday.

The Pasadena Whist Club, a new society organization, held a preliminary meeting at the residence of N. E. Swartwout, on Orange Grove avenue, last evening, and decided to effect a permanent organization on next Wednesday evening, at the home of Dr. Philbrook.

IN A NUTSHELL.

The school situation and the various opinions rendered on the subject are embodied in a nutshell as follows:

First—There was what was known as the San Pascual school district; it included the city proper and the outside.

Second—It was discovered in the Superintendent's office and afterward resurrected to public notice in a lawyer's office; that, after election, it required each incorporated city to be a district by itself.

Third—In accordance with law No. 2, the County Superintendent and District Attorney Kelly said there were two districts. For the city district, Kernaghan, Wright and Holder were appointed. For outside of the city, Painter, Buchanan and Williams.

Fourth—The County Superintendent says if the people would hold a public meeting of the patrons of the schools, the two districts would be consolidated. It was so effected.

Fifth—Today the District Attorney decides the consolidation was illegal, which therefore leaves the situation the same as shown in paragraph 3, above.

CONDENSED ITEMS.

The North Pasadena Literary Society meets tomorrow evening at the residence of J. A. Buchanan.

The Charity Organization Society holds a meeting on Friday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock.

A public mass meeting was held in Williams's Hall to talk over the school situation. Col. Banbury submitted the decision of the District Attorney, which was read, but the news having previously gotten abroad, the decision failed to fall like a thunderbolt. It was what had been expected.

Some thief has had his eye on a horse in Banning's coal yard on Euclid avenue. Last evening when he made his round for this particular animal he was surprised to see him among the missing. The engineer had spirited the horse away to safer quarters.

ANNUAL TRADE NUMBER,

—CONTAINING—

A COMPLETE REVIEW OF THE YEAR.

Fifty-six Large Pages. Equivalent to a Two Hundred Page Book.

The Annual Trade Number of THE TIMES, now ready, is the most complete and interesting publication of that character ever published in Los Angeles.

NOTABLE FEATURES—It contains a business review of the year, embracing a great mass of valuable facts bearing on the city and county; a thorough exposition of our natural resources—mineral, vegetable, commercial and climatic; a review of the rise and progress of the boom, with solid proofs that the country is now in better condition than it was during the height of the real-estate excitement; a carefully compiled exposition of the varied inducements which Southern California offers to the health-seeker, the home-seeker and the tourist, besides a number of interesting and valuable special articles on pertinent subjects. It contains more solid information about the country than could be crowded into the compass of a hundred long letters, and for a few cents and the expenditure of a few minutes' time in writing the address you can send a friend more information than you could write in a month, even if you had all the facts at hand. For a dollar you can supply ten families in the frozen East with information that may lead them to join the army of pilgrims to Southern California, to their own and this country's advantage. Thus, whether viewed from the standpoint of friendship or self-interest, it will be seen that no better use can be made of a dollar than by purchasing the new 112-page copies of the great Annual Trade Number of THE TIMES. Not one-tenth of the pleasure can be bestowed in any other way for the same amount of money.

PEOPLE'S STORE.

PIONEERS IN THE SYSTEM OF LOW PRICES.

Small Profits and Cash Sales the Headlight of Prosperity—A Popular Emporium Gaining Battles for the People.

PEOPLE'S STORE,
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 13, 1889.

Small profits and cash sales are the headlights of prosperity and the forerunners of sure success. If we could but get others into the trail of thinking as we do, renouncing the old high prices, the enormous phantomy profits and the very illusionary and deceptive rate of charges it would indeed be a battle gained for the people for which we want neither thanks nor reward.

That we were the first to fight down high prices; that we are the pioneers of the system of low prices; that we are the champions of the people for proper prices is well known to every resident for 50 miles around.

We have aimed by word and deed to inspire others into reducing the high ratio of profits existing for years here and lend their helping hand toward aiding us in testing our method of small profits over the old-time high ones.

But in all this it's well to know the spurious from the genuine, the pure from the base, the righteous from the deceptive, and only trade with such houses that are true to the trust.

We have observed an ancient, antiquated house, solid but old-fashioned, firm yet careless, plodding yet dormant, and just now, after a lapse of years, awakening Rip Van Winkle-like. Even this does does us good to see our efforts arousing the slumberers. Although prices are not yet right, we hope in time to see them so; but till then we are here to establish the right rate, the proper price and will continue to serve the public and teach to others that "Small Profits and Cash Sales are the Headlights of prosperity, and the forerunners of sure success."

FRIDAY, OUR REMNANT AND ODD AND END DAY.

Greater bargains than ever. Short lengths and odd sizes that must be disposed of. Remember only a few of each; but they must be sold, so of course prices must be reduced to meet the requirements of their disposal.

CONSUMPTION,

M. HILTON WILLIAMS,

M.D., M.C.P.S.O.,

Hollenbeck Block, cor. Spring and Second sts., Los Angeles, Cal.

All Diseases of the Respiratory Organs treated by the

And other Medicated Inhalations.

CATARRH.

Catarrh is often regarded by the patient as a cold in the head, and he often expresses his astonishment at his remarkable tendency to contract a fresh cold. Indeed he declares he is scarcely free from one cold before he takes another; and he is always exceedingly careful. It is also a matter of surprise to him that the cold always seems to settle in the head and the throat.

At times many of the symptoms of catarrh may seem to abate, and the patient is led to hope that the disease is about to wear off; but another class of symptoms soon appear, and he learns to his horror that instead of recovery from the disease it is somewhat changed in its character, and has extended to the throat. A sense of weariness is sometimes felt in reading, speaking or singing, hoarseness at times occurs, a sensation of dryness is sometimes felt in the throat, or it appears that some foreign substance, as, for instance, a hair, obstructed the throat; there becomes a sense of languor and fatigue, the breath lessens upon a little exertion, a short, hacking cough, a peculiar sound in clearing the throat, a feeling as though there was not room enough in the chest to breathe; these and other symptoms occur after the disease has made considerable progress. Then it is a time when consumption is about to begin its dreadful work. Up to this point the progress of the disease may have been slow, and the patient may, in expressing his confident hope that it will "wear off," declare that he has had the catarrh for years, and has not seemed to become much worse, and trusts he will "by and by" recover. But this delusion is the grand error which has peopled our cemeteries with consumptive forms, as all forms of catarrh end finally in consumption.

The great danger, however, because the most common, is that it will extend downward and affect the lungs. In most cases of pulmonary disease catarrh is present to some degree, and in many instances it causes a large share of the patient's discomfort.

Besides these grave consequences, all of which are liable to spring from scrofulous catarrh of ozoena, there are others which, if less dangerous, are sufficiently unpleasant. It occasions great unhappiness to thousands of both sexes by isolating them and preventing their settlement in life. An offensive running from the nose, with foul breath, is about as great a calamity as can befall young people. Every disease of this kind can be cured by our new system of practice.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless, unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the Compound Oxygen and other inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing can do with the same success. The very best reference from those already cured.
